

WESLEY SCHROEDER

President

Wesley Schroeder is the President of Magellan Executive Partners, a leading executive development and corporate strategy firm based in Oklahoma City. With more than two decades of experience spanning strategy, finance, operations, and entrepreneurship across the United States, Europe, and global markets, Wes brings a rare combination of boardroom sophistication and hands-on operational credibility to every engagement.

Prior to President, as Chief Strategy Officer and de facto CFO/COO at Magellan, Wes drove 3x revenue growth over four years, led strategic planning for more than 34 former CEOs, and advised organizations across financial services, manufacturing, insurance, higher education, non-profit, and technology. His consulting methodology is built on a foundational belief: that the leaders who drive lasting change are not those who are given the right answers, but those who are guided to discover them — and then held accountable for following through.

He is also co-founder of The Risk Finance Group, providing complex alternative risk financing solutions that address cost of risk inefficiencies in the traditional insurance market for private companies between $30M and $1B in revenue.

Wes holds an MBA in Finance and Corporate Strategy from the Tepper School of Business at Carnegie Mellon University and dual undergraduate degrees in Economics and Marketing from Oklahoma State University. He lives in Edmond, Oklahoma, with his wife, son, two daughters, two rescue dogs, and one horse for good measure — and outside the office can be found cooking classic French and Italian cuisine, following global finance, or cheering on the Oklahoma City Thunder.
